Delivery Policy

Over the years, we've been approached by certain hot-rodders, who want to deliver our food. Having tried these services at home, we've found them to be an expensive means to a cold, disarrayed meal. So unless you toss a bill to the neighbor kid, you'll have to get it yourself.

Carry Home Advice

Handle those bags with care. We do our best to package all items securely, but you still need to keep them level and up-right in your travels. (No skateboards or horseback please)

Good Idea: On the floor, firmly between the seats.

Bad Idea: The kid's car seat.

Good Idea: Passenger holds on floorboard between knees.

Bad Idea: Back of the pickup with the dog
